Car Plates Sales Lag As 3,000 Sold

Only about 3,000 of the 10,000 automobiles in Milam County have been registered according to Leroy Massengale, deputy tax collector.

And the other 7,000 will have to be registered before April 1. The office will be open Monday thru Saturday noon for the remainder of the month.

The present plates expire on March 31 which is a Sunday this year. So the plates will have to be sold at the rate of almost a thousand a day.

He said that there are offices in Gaither Motors in Rockdale, Max Hengst in Thorndale, Mrs. Nettie Lange in Gause, Nelson's Store in Baileyville and Otto Kelm's in Sharp.

He urged the public to get the plates as soon as possible to avoid the last minute rush.

Vehicle inspection also lags as only 2200 have been inspected. But the car owners have until April 15 to get the new sticker for their windshield. There are about 4500 cars to be inspected in the area.

'LO AND GOOD — BYE – Column 103 joins its five antecedants this week. It dies.

In its stead rises 104, a remarkable age for people to reach and a complicated one for newspapers.

Yes, The Herald's birthday edition comes once more with the next issue, Volume 104, No. 1.

So for 103, like prior Columns 102, 101, 100, 99 and 98 we wish "peace." Those years can get together and exchange some wide, wild tales.

03 - 103 - 103

There is much interest in civic problems and solving them in Milam's county seat these days. Mayor Coleman Duncum addressed the Cameron Lions Club the other day on the progress of city street and sewerline extension in recent years. E. A. Perrin is speaking in the Cameron Library's behalf before numerous groups.

Streets, sewerline service, library, schools are getting the attention they need. It is slow, sometime unrewarding work, this thing called progress, but towns on the move take them in stride and ultimately walk off with the development roses.

103 - 103 - 103

If you want a roomful of problems some time, try to solve just one.

You deal with two big obstacles, ones found within most of us: a "block" in the mind and some "stone" in the head. The "block" has something to do with a "mental ....". The "stone" sometimes describes the thickness of our skull.

If a message can pass both it has a chance to survive into action.

GROUP STUDIES LEADERSHIP FOR SURVEY

Acting Director H. D. Maxwell led discussion Tuesday night on naming chairmen of 10 sub - committees of a county - wide County Program Building Committee at County Agent J. D. Moore's office.

The group is organizing to assemble and complete a directory of information about Milam history people and data for the use of business, industry, all kinds of organizations and individuals.

Moore emphasized that the program is not to develop an extension program, but to assemble background information.

Copies of the Falls County booklet, already completed, were reviewed Tuesday night.

The 10 areas to be reviewed and surveyed include: Milam location, climate and history; human resources, labor force and occupation groups; family living; organizations; health and public welfare; natural resources; agriculture; commerce and industry; and local government and schools.

Moore notes in a letter to prospective committeemen that the information when compiled will be made available to all organizations in the county and industrial prospects.

Moore says the program "will help them determine their own program directions and develop a better future for Milam County, including new industries, recreational areas, tourist attractions and development of natural assets.

About 10 people attended the meeting Tuesday.

Boosts Streets, Library

Mayor Notes Progress

Mayor Coleman Duncum Monday told Cameron Lions of the proposal to repave downtown streets and discussed the upcoming library referendum April 2.

In a talk that recounted recent sewer and street projects, Duncum itemized about $20,000 spent on five sewerline and lift station projects that added 12,800 feet of 6 - inch sewerline, three lift stations and 61 sewer connections during the past three years.

He noted 126 sewer and 100 water connections have been completed in the past eight years, including 475 feet of 6 - inch water extension, two new fire hydrants and replacement of 20 others.

Talking about the proposed 25 - 30 block downtown paving program Mayor Duncum said the engineering firm of Joe J. Rady and Associates Fort Worth, is drawing up a cost estimate on the project, soon to be presented to the Council.

BOND ELECTION NEEDED

"We will have to have a bond election to pave the streets," Duncum told Cameron Lions.

And he said that half of the money could come from a federal grant

Duncum said the downtown streets were built in 1924. The high crown has kept the streets in shape, he said, allowing a rapid runoff of water. Planning calls for removal of part of the crown.

"This project will help business, I believe," Duncum said. "And the improvement will encourage property owners to fix the old buildings in the downtown area."

In describing street improvements of recent years, the Mayor cited a city map that showed some 100 blocks of paving or resurfacing and improvements.

Duncum also touched on the upcoming special library referendum.

He said voters will be able to express their interest in the City Council's authority to allot a $2,500 maintenance fund for the library. Money would come through an increase of 5 cents per $100 valuation.

"This does not mean 5 per cent," Duncum said. "It means 5 cents per $100 valuation, contrary to what some people are saying - about a 5 per cent increase."

ENDORSES PROJECTS

Duncum urged approval of these improvements because "our economy is based on agriculture and experts tell us that the 1970's will be the Golden Age of agriculture."

He said that residential paving will continue on a participation basis. With the hot - mix process, the property owner must have curb and gutter. And he cited on the map streets that have been recently paved and others in process.

He noted that three lift stations have extended sewer service to west and northwest Cameron. Lift station cost averaged about $6,000 and added about 100 customers to city sewer service. Funds came out of bond money earmarked for sewerline extension.

GOOD CO — OPERATION

"The City is getting good cooperation from property owners who own low - rent tenant houses along the new sewerlines.

Property owners can be compelled by Council action to connect to a sewerline within a certain distance from the house.

East Seventh St. planning is to curb and gutter Seventh from Fannin to Jackson and top it with an inch and one - half of hot mix asphalt. This new street would take some of the traffic off of streets passing Yoe Campus.

He said the street will have to be straightened since some existing curb and gutters are 6 feet off in places.

Mayor Duncum was introduced by John Schigut, Lions president.

LADIES PLAN HOUSE DRIVE MONDAY NIGHT

The North Milam Red Cross fund drive, its goal $3,100, kicks off Monday with drives in the Cameron business section, a house - to-house drive 5-8 p. m. that night and individual drives in about a dozen North Milam communities. The drive ends Sunday March 30.

Forrest Sapp, fund drive chairman, said the North Milam Red Cross last year received over 200 more pints of blood than given in Cameron to the RC Bloodmobile.

Cameron hospitals received: St. Edward, 300 pints; Newton Memorial, 109. The additional 200 pints of blood would have cost about $5,000.

A similar amount was raised in the South Milam United Fund for Red Cross last fall. And Thorndale is conducting a separate drive at present.

BUSINESS DRIVE

In Cameron, Cameron Lions and Rotary Club members will make business calls for Red Cross funds. They will ask for the same donations gien in 1962, or the same percentage pledged for the Red Cross when the North Milam United Fund was in operation.

Last year the business community raised almost $1,500, the residential drive about $650 and the North Milam communities about $950. More than $200 was raised by the Cameron Negro community.

Sapp reported that leaders of several women's clubs organized the house - to - house drive for from Three Arts, Delphian, Fleurde - lis and St. Monica's Ladies & Christian Mothers will conduct the city - wide drive.

The drive will last only one week, Sapp emphasized. Funds will be turned into County Supt. H. D. Maxwell's office as last year. Maxwell is contacting workers in the rural areas.

Individual workers and leaders have been contacted in the North Milam communities. Each will have a goal similar to those of 1962, Sapp continued.

Communities participating will be: Marak, Buckholts, Ad Hall, Salem, Maysfield, Branchville, Ben Arnold, Burlington, Clarkson, Baileyville, Yarrelton.

THERMOMETER

Sapp said that a drive thermometer will be erected on the Milam Courthouse lawn, marking contribution totals as they come in.

Last June, a crash program was conducted to prevent the loss of the blood program in the North Milam area. About $3,200 was raised.

This year, Cameron and North Milam have again used much more blood than given, a savings that alone justifies area support, Sapp said.

Other Red Cross services include emergency relief and emergency furlough service through field offices such as the one maintained by Red Cross in Rockdale.

Maxwell was distributing campaign materials to rural drive workers. Placards were being distributed in downtown businesses.

Red cross contributions are divided in this way: 15 per cent for the blood program; 38 per cent for Armed Force service; 11 per cent for disaster relief such as Hurricane Carla.

Thirty per cent of the funds goes out of county for use in disaster aid and overseas service.

DRIVE AIDES

Sapp was being assisted in Cameron by Dana Kestenbaum, president of Cameron Rotary, John B. Henderson, Jr., and John Schigut, president of Cameron Lions Club.

The drive fund chairman urged the co - operation of hundreds of people who are being asked to assist in the Red Cross fund drive.

Delegation Appears . . .

School Valuation Work Beginning

A 10 - man delegation last Thursday night acknowledged the need for School District equalization, but asked that it be done through a local approach.

Supt. Charles Zeigler said the group visited the regular Cameron School Board meeting Thursday night at Cameron School offices.

Consensus of thinking among the group was that a local school equalization board could handle valuation of property Supt. Zeigler said.

But Supt. Zeigler said the Cameron Board had committed March 1 to signing a contract with the Southwestern Appraisal Co., of Dallas and Stamford, for a six - month $24,600 valuation survey of some 5,300 parcels of District property. Preliminary work began on the program this week.

The contract was actually signed Thursday by Board President Dr. Gus Evans and Secretary Dr. S. H. Richardson.

During the discussion just about all of the delegation expressed their ideas on the valuation program, Zeigler said. They all expressed interest in the need for fair valuations, but hoped that local people could do the work.

Among the group were: R. L. Batte, J. L. Lamkin, G. A. Dodd, W. V. Hauk, Morris Coward, Percy Gooch, L. A. Dusek, F. W. Vogelsang, Buck Angell and Joe Hickman.

In other School Board action, board members voted to set a $75 tuition charge for transfer students from other school districts. It was based on local costs used in the instruction of students. About 140 students transfer into Cameron District this year.

And places were drawn for the April 6 school board election. Candidates' places in order of appearance are: Sam S. White, Alton Fuchs, and K. D. "Buster" Griffin.

White is seeking a first term while Fuchs and Griffin are seeking their first elective terms after appointment to the Board last fall.

Zeigler also reported the Cameron School District textbook committee selected new books in 10 fields for the 1963 - 64 school year.

They include texts for music grades 4-6, Texas history, Algebra 1 and 2, plane geometry, physics, Spanish 1 and 2, homemaking and industrial arts.

Call Mission Collect If You Find Screwworm

MISSION — Knowing immediately where every screwworm case in the Southwest is located has become so important to the eradication program that arrangements have been made so livestockmen can call the Mission headquarters collect when an infestation is detected.

When a screwworm case is found officials would like producers to do two things: (1)collect about 10 worms from the wound, place them in water or alcohol and hold for further instructions and (2) report the infestation to eradication officials by calling collect to JUstice 5-1646 (Mission). No telephone call should be made unless a sample is available.

The following information should be available at the time the call is made:

1. Name
2. Address and telephone number where producer can be contacted.
3. Date when sample was collected
4. Location of farm or ranch where case was found.
5. Location of wound on animal.

Producers are urged to call day or night, whenever the infestation is found. At night or on weekends, the information will be relayed to eradication officials, who will contact the producer for further information and instruct him to either mail the sample or hold it to be picked up by a livestock inspector.

From the information received, a determination can be made as to the action that is necessary. In many cases, a screwworm livestock inspector will be sent to the premises to pick up the sample and obtain additional information. If the sample is identified as a true screwworm, sterile flies will probably be dispersed in the area.

The key to the system, officials said, is that sample of worms be collected at the time the wound is detected. Without the sample, they don't know whether the infestation was from a screwworm or from some other maggot, similar in appearance and characteristics. Screwworm infestations are now at a minimum, the eradicators said, and though prompt reporting, action can be taken to prevent the infestation from mushrooming into a large scale outbreak.

SOIL SAMPLES

The number of soil samples tested at the 3 laboratories operated by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service handled 50 percent more samples in October and November 1962 than in the same months for a year earlier. We are happy to see this increase, says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, for it means that more and more Texans are becoming interested in soil building and improving programs.

Milam ASCS Report

The office manager of the Milam County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Service has reminded farmers of this county that the time is drawing to a close for signing up in the 1963 feed grain program.

Alva E. Sanders noted that the closing date is March 22.

Growers who participate in the 1963 feed grain program will have four definite advantages over growers who elect not to participate according to Sanders.

These advantages he described as: A. Price support will be available for the participating grower's 1963 production of corn, grain sorghum, and barley. B. A substantial income from the acres diverted is assured regardless of drought, flood, insects, hail or crop disease. C. The price - support payment on the established yield of the planted acreage is also assured. D. An advance payment of part of the diversion payment, at the participant's request, will be made at the time of signing up or as soon as possible after that time.

A grower participating in the seed grain program, Sanders explained, reduces his acreage of corn, grain sorghum, and barley by at least 20 percent of his farm's feed grain base acreage, and devotes this diverted acreage to a conserving use.

The first step necessary to take part in the program, however, is signing an intention - to - participate form at the ASCS County Office. Friday, March 22 is the final date for signing up.

COTTON BREAKDOWN

What could prove to be a major break through in more efficient cotton production has been demonstrated at the Lubbock substation of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Cotton planted in 9-inch rows produced more than two bales an acre without a single cultivation. It was irrigated and a pre emergence herbicide was used to control seeds. It was mechanically harvested.

Schiller Studies Proposals To Improve Parks

LUBBOCK — Plans for a proposed development of Texas State Parks were studied Friday at Texas Tech by Rep. Milton Schiller Cameron.

The plans, being prepared thru Tech's park administration department, were presented at a special meeting of the State Park Board, the State's chief executives, legislators and other leaders.

The Tech planners are working on a comprehensive, long - range plan for the State Parks System as a whole and on detailed plans for several individual parks.

The proposals will be presented to the Legislature with documented plans and estimates for improving the parks.

Directing the study at Tech is Elo J. Urbanovsky, park administration department head.

In addition to reviewing the parks proposals, the state officials toured Tech's 1,800 acre campus, receiving reports on other activities and developments there.

The state is now foregoing the benefits of $100 million in annual business (ultimately two and a half times that) by failing to develop its parks the visitors were told.

Mrs. Laura McCallum has returned home from several weeks visit with relatives in Ballinger. She came by car to Brownwood where her grandson Mr. and Mrs. Hubert McCallum of Waco met her and accompanied her home.

"Government should do for people only what people cannot do for themselves."

When Abraham Lincoln spoke these words, he was recognizing the dangers of a government which does too much for people.

America was founded and has grown through individual initiative and private enterprise, but more and more we have permitted government to do things which we can and should do ourselves.

Today, private enterprise businesses of practically every kind and size face the competitive activities of government-owned businesses: paint factories, cement plants, bakeries, trucking operations and hundreds of others.

Through such agencies as Tennessee Valley Authority and the Bonneville Power Administration, government is steadily increasing its role as a producer of electric power.

Government-owned business not only competes with private enterprise; it does so with the advantages of no Federal tax payments, and little or no interest payments. Ironically, government businesses are operated primarily with the tax dollars collected from private enterprises and individuals.

If we are to preserve our free enterprise system and retain our personal freedoms, we must recognize and speak out against the increasing dangers of government in business.

Weather has a lot to do with track meets. And bad weather has plagued the Cameron Relays. The last two years the weather has been good but from 1957 to 1959 the weather was bad.

In 1956 the weather was very good and records fell. Five of those records till hold. The year the big city schools were in the meet and Port Arthur was the victor.

The oldest records on the book were set in 1954. And both were tied in '62. The record for the 100 yard dash was set in '54 by Stone of Navasota and tied in '62 by John Martin, Reicher's fine sprinter.

Another '54 record was held by Carter of A & M Cons. and tied by Arndt of Giddings in 1962.

This year the track is in good shape and if the weather holds up there should be some records set.

Charles Hollas Is U Of T Kegler

Making a varsity team of five with over 10,000 eligible to try is a good feat. And this is what Charles Hollas did when he made the University of Texas Bowling team.

Hollas has earned a slot on the University team that represents the school in the Texas Intercollegiate Bowling League. There are teams from the University, Texas A & M, Sam Houston, San Antonio College, Arlington State and Texas Christian University.

He was holding the third best average on the team until the last match. As he said, "I had a very poor day, bowling wise; 1525 for nine games."

But the team won seven of twelve and gained another game on A & M They now lead the Aggies by 2½ games.

Until last week he held the third high series in the league with a 643 for three games. It dropped to fifth at Arlington. His 257 game was third high too, but it plunged to fifth under that barrage.

The 21 year - old kegler started to bowl at 11 when he was a pinsetter at the local lanes. He bowled during slack periods, teaching himself styles that he saw from the far end of the alley.

After he graduated fourth in his class at Yoe High, he went to work for a year and a half at the Citizens National Bank. During this time, the new lanes were built and a Tri - City League was formed. He was elected as secretary in its formative year. It was then that he became serious about bowling.

In the league he carried the top average, a 173. But now in the rougher college league he is over 183. The increase is due to a number of things.

One of the most important is the attitude of the bowlers around you. "Concentration in that tough scratch league is an important factor," he said. "You can't let your teammates down and you try hard on every roll". And this is noticeable as he rolls the ball. "You just don't miss a single pin."

He now throws a very smooth semi - fingertip ball with a slight hook on it that breaks about six inches at the pins. It is a good ball and gets a lot of pin action. He uses a five - step approach.

When possible he practices once a week. Studies take a lot of time for the sophomore physics major. He is on the Dean's list and has a 2.8 average out of a possible 3 and is also a member of the freshman academic fraternity, Phi Eta Sigma.

The team is made up of Charles Woods, Jerry Semrod and Adrian Bludeau of San Antonio, Jerry Davidson of Houston and Hollas.

At the beginning of the year all those who wanted to bowl on the team rolled a series and the pinfall ranked the bowlers. Hollas is ranked fifth on the team. A man in the standings can be challenged only by the man under him. He has been challenged a few times but managed to hang on to the position.

The league travels to each school and the members of teams pay for everything but bowling and transportation. They bowl only for trophies.

In the recent college bowling tournament in Ft. Worth, one of his teammates qualified to go to the National College Bowling Tournament in Buffalo

The top five series in the tournament qualify but only one man from each team can go. "Charles Woods had the eight high series in the match and was able to go because of the rule.

Boost North Milam Red Cross . . .

North Milam County is again being asked to aid in raising funds for the Red Cross in Cameron and the North Milam area above Little River.

The goal is $3,100, same as in 1962. That money was raised in little more than two weeks.

Support for this project is amply justified. Cameron hospitals received during 1962 a total of 409 pints of blood. The community gave less than 200 pints during the year.

Net gain for Cameron area residents was $5,000, figuring blood at a minimum of $25 a pint. It costs up to $40 plus administration charge at some out - of - town hospitals.

Thus Cameron and North Milam's $3,000 contribution is rewarded with a return of $5,000 in whole blood above our donation, assuming the goal is reached.

For the $3,100 investment then, North Milam and Cameron area residents draw what amounts to thousands of dollars worth of free blood, even outside of Milam County. And the other services can be considered free, even though a percentage of the money goes for administration at state and national Red Cross level.

We urge you to support your Red Cross in 1963 as you did in 1962. You will be asked to give only what you have given in the past . . . No more, no less. And these life - saving services will continue uninterrupted, though perhaps taken for granted.

Little River Not So 'Little'

County officials cited the fact that several delegations appearing before the U. S. Corps of Engineers last week were interested in seeing the channel rectification of Little River.

It is no wonder. Little River carries or will carry water from no less than five major reservoirs, including present built Belton Reservoir, abuilding Stillhouse Hollow, and prospective Laneport and North and South Gabriel projects.

That means that channel straightening and deepening will serve some $100 million worth of reservoirs as well as aiding agriculture in Milam County

This is another reason Milam has become a focal point in Central Texas. It has water running through, around and at times over it in abundance in a time when water becomes more and more a precious commodity.

Observers said Corps of Engineers officials at the Waco hearing indicated the importance of this project.

This news is of importance to agriculture but it has value to the industrial hopes of Milam as well. Though a great deal of the water flowing past Cameron's "doorstep" will be committed to industrial and agricultural needs south to the Gulf, Cameron will be in position to negotiate for industrial and irrigation supply not just from Laneport or Belton, but the others as well.

The Little River, inspiration for Cameron's new slogan, will prove not so little after all.

New Form 941 For Employer's Return

A new single sheet paper Form 941, Employer's Tax Return, will be mailed employers on March 25, 1963, it was announced today by A. P. Andrews, administrative officer of Internal Revenue in Temple.

This form is to be used for reporting and paying social security and income taxes withheld from employees for the first quarter of 1963. It replaces the two - part card Form 941 and there is no radical change in format. Employers will find the newform mutcheasier to prepare and more adaptable fpr use in typewriters and for record keeping.

Also stressed is the importance of using the pre - addressed form mailed to employers each quarter, and the need for filling in all items called for on the form. Otherwise, the Service is forced into an expensive editing process before the information can be converted to to magnetic tape under the new Automatic Data Processing system Equally important is the necessity for showing the employer's identification number on each employment return and related correspondence.

$3,000,000,000 Bill Passed

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — A $3,000,000,000 budget bill has been passed by the House of Representatives.

Before it cleared the House and went on to the Senate, the bill elicited several cries of anguish from some who protested agency be - quests as too small and some who claimed certain allotments were too big.

Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo claimed appropriations for the State Board of Control were too big, since they involved $1,000 salary raises for executive directors of those agencies.

Rep. Terry Townsend of Brady claimed deputy commissioners in the Texas Education Agency draw a total of $14,800 more than the Legislature authorized.

Townsend also tried to cut out a $250,000 appropriation to improve the newly - donated Wheatly Ranch in Blanco County as a state park He claimed the money was needed for established parks. But this move failed.

HIGH COST OF FLYING

Another atiempt to cut a specific recommendation out of the budget bill almost was successful.

Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford tried to get the House to "ground" the State Land Office airplane. He pointed out that $100,000 is appropiated annually for operation and maintenance of a high-powered Land Office plane.

Botten showed a photostatic copy of the plane's flight log for the year ended October, 1962. He stated, "In a year's time, only 68 flights were recorded. Sixteen were test flights to familiarize the pilot with the plane before he broke the propeller when he collided with another plane in a hangar and then he had to take eight more test flights to familiarize himself with the new propeller!".

Rep. Joe Chapman of Sulphur Springs disagreed. He said that the plane is necessary for aerial surveys and photographs to confirm the 1941 state land survey.

Cotton insisted that the Land Office should hire commercial aerial photographers, as the Texas Water Commission does.

Cotten's amendment to strike out the plane appropriation failed by a narrow 72-68 vote.

LOW COST OF EDUCATION

Complaints about too - low appropriations came from members who said allotments for higher education in 1964 - 65 are too small.

The last Legislature appropriated $159,600,000 from the State General Revenue Fund for higher education in 1962 - 63.

State college administrators requested $243,000,000 for the coming two yeas. Former Gov. Price Daniel and the Legislative Budget Board recommended $226,000,000. Gov John B. Connally recommends $225 000,000. Paducha Rep. Bill Heatly's appropriations bill allows for $87 600,000 to educate the bumper crop of war babies that is expected to begin to flow into state colleges next year.

Rep. Hugh Parmer of Fort Worth claimed the Heatly committee had slashed Arlington State College's library budget so drastically, the school might not be accredited next year.

So, Parmer and Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth begged for an amendment to raise Arlington's appropriation. It failed by a vcte of 94 - 41.

The $172,000 needed to make the Texas Maritime Academy in Galveston a reality was absent from the appropriations bill. But Governor Connally said, "I have real hope of getting the Legislature to restore the maritime money." He didn't say whether he had any hope of getting the allotment for higher education boosted.

COUNTY BUYING MAY BE EASIER

Rep. Vernon Beckham of Denison got a green light from the House Committee on Counties on his bill to raise the amount a county purchasing agent may spend on emergency purchases without advertising for competitive bidding.

Since 1925, the amount that may be spent without competitive bidding has been $150. Beckham said this is unrealistic in the view of raising costs. He proposed it be raised to $500. However, the subcommittee set it at $300.

Reps. Henry Grover and J. C. Whitfield of Houston won approval from the House State Affairs Committee on their bill to require competitive bidding on public sch- 'Im not in favor of whar,watl ool purchases above $1,000.

SALES TAX FREEZE FAILS

An attempt by Rep. John Allen of Longview to pass a constitutional amendment to freeze the state sales tax at two per cent and keep food and drugs exempt failed by a 72 - 64 vote.

However, food may remain safe from the sales tax if a measure by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas and Rep. Charles Wilson of Trinity passes. They have proposed legislation to simplify sales tax bookkeeping for grocers. Since grocers have been the ones fighting for a blanket tax, this bill may satisfy them.

TUITION RAISES PROPOSED

Representative Atwell picked up a recommendation by the Commission on Higher Education to double state colege tuition, and filed a bill to raise it from $50 to $100 a semester.

Governor Connally has ignored the commission's suggestion.

Rep. Dick Morgan, Republican from Dallas, chose "a good compromise." He introduced a bill to rasie tuition to $75 a semester.

Children of members of the Texas National Guard who have been killed in the "cold war crisis" since 1950 will be provided free tuition in state colleges, if a bill by Rep. Parmer is passed.

STATES RIGHTS STAND

The House passed a resolution to ask Congress to call a constitutional convention to leave legislative reapportionment to state legislatures. Rep. Bill J. Parsley of Lubbock said, "This may be the last time the state can take a stand on what may be the last of state's rights."

If the proposed amendment is adopted by a sufficient number of states, Texas could insure a rurally - dominated legislatures, despite urban growth.

THE OLD PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Reports There Are Plenty Of Answers On Cuba But None Of Them Will Work

Dear editar:

Somebody has to do it, and there always plenty of men hunting the job, but being President of the United States is one job I wouldn't be interested in. Too many problems with no answers.

I don't mean to say that running this Johnson grass farm doesn't envolve a lot of problems, and some of them may not have any answers, but I don't have to contend with a lot of people furnishing answers that won't work. And even in the worst year, there are always times when I can wake up some mornings without anything really bothering me. This doesn't happen in the White House.

For example, right now everybody wants the United States, and therefore the President, to do something about Cuba.

One man out of many I was listening to on television said the way to handle Cuba is simple, just cut off the flow of oil to the island, that'll bring Castro to his knees. Now I'll admit you can't run machinery or a country very long without oil, I've tried it with my tractor and it's the quickest way I know to bring it to its knees, and also to the repair shop.

So when somebody asked, "Wouldn't stopping a Russian ship bearing oil to Cuba be an act of war?" this man said, "Well, naturally, 'I'm not in favor of war, what I mean is I'm in favor of stopping the flow of oil to Cuba provided it wouldn't be considered an act of war."

Yeah, and I'm in favor of skipping the payments of my television set provided it wouldn't be considered a default. I'm in favor of abolishing all taxes provided it wouldn't abolish the country.

One of the easiest jobs on earth is to tell somebody else what he ought to do, then move on to something else, and if you look back over your shoulder and discover he's done it and the results are disasterous, you can always turn around and ridicule him for not having more sense than to do a fool thing like that.

This just doesn't happen under one certain President, it happens under all Presidents. But I guess they must have known this when they applied for the job.

Personally, I not only don't now what to do about Cuba, I don't know what to do about Africa, Egypt, France, Russia, China, Johnson grass, the state legislature, the high cost of living, or the knock in my 1949 tractor.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

AUSTIN: Planting got undeway in several sections of the territory. Some planting was done in the Winter Garden, upper Coastal Bend and in central Texas; however, planting on a large scale was not expected for another week. Market activity was nil.
